My ~~em~~ address

theirs address

Dear Sir/ma'am

As a young teenager in this world I am shocked to ~~read~~ think you suggest we should ban heroes? Can you imagine none there to save you? I felt forced to do this letter ~~and that's why it's here~~ with the way you think banning heroes will be good so I'm here to open your eyes and see you ~~making~~ being a mistake.

Firstly I want to discuss about how they cause destruction,

I truly think that it's fine to do that because the way to see it, without ^{heroes} heroes, the whole world would be destroyed without them. Secondly, how many times have heroes saved people?
Lots, and you really think stopping them is going to help? Heroes are not just heroes, they're teachers. They have taught me so much like, respect, not giving up, something tiny good or bad can turn to a big thing. I have met a hero before ~~it~~ it was the best time of my life because ^{someone} he saved me and my parents and I have never forget the moment. Hero don't just stop the villain they sometimes ~~save~~ change a villain goal, yes some villains don't but some is better than nothing.

^{themselves} Furthermore, ~~carrying on with~~ ^{heroes} they, how many times have you seen heroes sacrifice themselves for other people? because I have seen many, they see someone in danger they don't think of them they think about ~~the~~ other people in the world, that's how selfless they are. Not only that, they stop the end of the world. Without ~~heroes~~ heroes, we may not be here!

However, I may find heroes good but I can understand they may have their bad side like the destruction and even when they try and save people they sometimes can't save anyone. Yes they destroy houses but the point thing ~~to~~ to see is the sad ^{the} faces on people's faces to the fact their houses gone.

^{reading} In ~~that~~ conclusion I want to ~~thank~~ thank you for listening and hopefully you listen and realise heroes are good.

Yours faithfully, Joe
