An island family was just chilling and they had a daughter who had no ~~mom~~ but the ~~mom~~ lived with her ~~dad~~ dad and dad's sister. Her dad gave her a doll for a birthday but little did she know that that doll was possessed with a deadly spirit. When her mom died she hung herself because she was possessed with the same spirit in that doll. But what really happened was the husband went to some sketchy spiritual guy who wanted him to give a curse to his brother because his dad always loved his brother but not him and when he died he gave his brother his factory but that's what he wanted so he asked the spirits of evil to kill his brother but in return he had to sacrifice his wife. Foolishly he did that. Sooner or later the family found out that they were being cursed and they didn't know why (except the dad) and called these people to help them. The daughter got cursed and tried to kill the helpers, she managed to stab her in the back (not metaphorically) with scissors. She went to a different house to stay and hoped they wouldn't get cursed but they were wronged. They brought the doll. The man tried to kill her sister but it wasn't her, it was the curse, she was there it was her body but she was covered in blood and had red eyes with a wicked nose like a witch. You could just tell she was possessed. The helpers carried these special necklaces and it was like the man was allergic to it, it would burn her, but it would only work when you are praying to God (A-H) but then she managed to get her husband to talk and now she knows what you know and she knows exactly how to end it. She went to the factory. The spirit decided to use the sister instead of someone dead and it would still work. She managed to kill her and the ~~husband~~ ~~dad~~ got arrested.
